SHORT STOPS.

Peck's elegant kid next.
Jailer Rollow only caught one "fresh fish" the past week.

The Erin brass band went to Nashville to help make music for the President.

Mrs. W. P. Titus is lying very sick at her home, and does not improve any.

A young druggist in this city is matrimonially inclined, but it isn't the one you think.

Mrs. J. F. Couts is very ill and has been for some days past. Her condition had not improved at the latest reports.

Mrs. Ellett, on the north side of Madison, one door west of Seventh, can accommodate a few gentlemen with first-class boarding.

Mr. John B. Reynolds and family have given up housekeeping and taken boarding in the family of Mr. Len Smith, on Madison street.

Hardy & Young's Bad Boy Company at Opera House Friday and Saturday Oct. 21 and 22. Look out the novel street parade.

Phil S. Greiner in the Bad Boy at the Opera House Friday night and Saturday matinee. Saturday night "Emeralda" will be presented.

"Uncle Griff Organ" went to Nashville to see the President and had the misfortune to lose his overcoat, but was lucky enough to find it again.

By reference to her advertisement will be seen that Mrs. T. M. Harris is selling out her stock of millinery. She expects to return to her old home in Kansas next month.

Capt. Collishaw took a barge down the Cumberland Tuesday at 12 o'clock with a heavy load of merchandise, valued at $10,000, for various points between this and Linton.

Why doesn't somebody put on foot project to run street cars to New River? It would probably be a paying investment.

Mr. Crittenden, McKnight and Allersworth have opened a store at Howell, Ky. on the I. & A.

These are clever gentlemen and have a very good stand for business. We wish them much success.

It is understood that the old road leading to New Providence by the old Red river is to be opened up again. This will enable those wishing to save ferrage to go around.

Farsus, on the south side is to have grange fair on Thursday and Friday of next week. These gatherings are held annually and have always been productive of much good to the neighborhood.

The brothers, Joe and Wm. Dean, were tried last week on the charge of burning Mrs. E. M. Maree's barn, on Southside, were discharged by Esq. C. D. Bailey, the defence having been found insufficient to bind them over.

A policeman was seen as far from center of the city as Seventh and Madison streets a few days since. A little children hurried into the street shouting: "Mamma, Mamma, come here quick; here's a real copper!"

Geo. Armstrong, who lives in Searey's Ferry, in this county, has his pockets picked of a gold watch and chain in Nashville while attending the Cleveland reception on Monday. He has not yet recovered and has no clue to the thief.

Older Gilmore, the negro who killed Rose Oldham helter-skelter during a revival at Boiling Springs two weeks ago, settled his feud with Rose by marrying her.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore will no longer create a fur-ore.

Master Will Boone, of Erin, who for about twelve months been acting as watchman at that place, is attempting to couple a train Monday evening his attention was attracted for a moment and his hand caught and crushed so badly that he will have to be amputated. He was at seventeen years of age and the reliance of a widowed mother support.

Advice to Mothers
Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States and has been used for forty years with never failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea griping in the bowels and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25c a bottle.

A negro fiend attempted to ravish Miss Sue Casner, a white young lady living with Rev. J. Bowe, a Baptist minister at Pembroke, Ky., on Sunday night last. She went to the eastern in the yard to get a pitched of water before retiring. She was seized, but struggled and screamed until Mr. Bowe came to her assistance and the villain fled. It is safe to say he will go by the stair way if caught.

It would be difficult to find a neater and better behaved schoolful of children any place than Prof. Graham can show at the Howell school building. These hundreds of dear little ones are really gentlemen and ladies in every respect. They are as sharp as thistles and as deep as the famous rock the water comes from that is sold at the candy shops about town. Clarksville is justly and deservedly proud of her school, her teachers, and her large group of children.

Mr. William M. Viser, a gentleman well and favorably known in Clarksville has just received letters patent on a device for a nailing implement to be used particularly in the constitution of hedge fences, but in general for driving nails in a scientific way. In making the "lattice" hedge it is an excellent tool, and does its work with remarkable speed and accuracy. Mr. Viser is in Clarksville, and will remain for several days.

Parties committing petty depredations on Mr. John Bradley's brickyard had better quit it. He has a white man watching now, who was compelled to shoot at another trespasser on last Sunday night, found prowling around, evidently bent on mischief, and who, when hailed, refused to give an account of himself. Somebody else will get badly hurt if this is not stopped. Mr. Bradley has a perfect right to defend his premises and to use or have used just such force as is necessary to repel the intruder. It is a shame and a disgrace to any community professing to be even half civilized to permit persons to skulk around under cover of night and commit an injury or damage to the property of a peaceful citizen, and every property owner is bound to frown down such practices. Vigorous efforts ought to be, and we trust will be, made to arrest the guilty parties and bring them to condign punishment.

The Excursionists.
THE excursionists who went to Nashville to get a glimpse of President Cleveland and lady were, a great many of them, disappointed after all. A part went up to Guthrie Sunday evening, intending to stay all night and take the early morning train from that place to Nashville. Some delayed and took the train on Monday morning, expecting to connect with the regular train at Guthrie. By this arrangement there was at Guthrie two excursion trains waiting for the Hopkinsville train, which was delayed by a ditched freight train between Hopkinsville and Guthrie, and the consequence was that only the first train that got through after the obstruction was removed arrived in Nashville time enough for its occupants to participate in the reception or to see the President and lady.

Drowned at Memphis.
Willie C. Joseph mentioned in the following item of news from Memphis learned his trade in the CHRONICLE office and for a long time afterwards stood at the cases here. He is a nephew of Mr. J. G. Joseph, the well known clothing merchant of Clarksville. The item is as follows: "An accident occurred to-night on the river during the display of fireworks given in honor of President Cleveland's visit which resulted in the drowning of three men. Four printers, Clinton W. DeJarnett, W. C. Joseph, S. H. Gary, and J. A. Beasley, hired a skiff and engaged two negroes to pull it for them, as they wished to go out in the river and get an unobstructed view of the fireworks display. The skiff which was an old one, sprung a leak while they were in mid-stream and capsized. DeJarnett, Beasley and one of the negroes drowned. The others were rescued by a skiffman who was fortunately near at hand. DeJarnett was 22 years of age and came from Chicago. Beasley was 20 years old and has relatives living in Chattanooga, Tenn.

A BURGLARY AND ROBBERY.

The Premises of a Citizen Broken Open and His Trunk and Money Stolen.

On Wednesday evening Mr. James Stafford, a carpenter who lives on Greenwood avenue, left his home to shave the corpse of Mr. J. J. Frewitt, a neighbor of his, who had just died, and while he was gone, the house being left entirely unprotected and without a living soul on the place, some thief broke open and entered the premises and stole Stafford's trunk, which he states contained about $85 in money. On Thursday morning the trunk was recovered, being found in a vacant lot adjoining Mr. Stafford's residence. Strange to say, Mr. Jo. B. Thomas, who made the discovery, found $40 of the money loose in the trunk and the pocket book missing which had contained it. It is supposed that the thief dropped the money out of the pocket book in his haste to secure it, being alarmed with the fear of pursuit or discovery. There is no clue to the robber.

THE PALE HORSE.

List of Persons who recently joined the Silent Majority.

Mr. Nicholas D. Ingram, half brother of our fellow townsman, Martin V. Ingram, died at his home in Lake Providence, Louisiana, on the 14th inst., at 4 o'clock p. m. after a protracted and painful illness caused by a fall last spring breaking his hip, and resulting in blood poison. He was 76 years old, and left this country when he was 18 years old, and had accumulated a handsome fortune most of which was lost during the war. He was a man of great energy of character, and was possessed of a vigorous constitution, but has never recovered from the effects of the injury which continued to the time of his death, causing intense suffering which he bore with heroic fortitude. Mr. Martin V. Ingram visited his brother in the spring, and the meeting proved to be the last on earth. Mr. and Mrs. Ingram also suffered the loss of their infant child, last Saturday. The funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Mr. Ingram's residence by Rev. A. D. Sears, and the remains were interred at Greenwood.

Mr. J. Benjamin Davis, aged 35, a brother to Mrs. Joseph Fowlkes, died of consumption at Pleasant View October 19, and was laid to rest at Little Hope church on the 20th. Rev. Walton officiating in the funeral service.

Mrs. Susan, wife of D. C. Powers, living near Palmyra, this county, departed this life on Wednesday, the 12th, at the advanced age of about 74 years, of lung congestion. She was a good Christian woman, and has gone to heaven.

Mr. J. J. Prewitt, who lived on Greenwood Avenue, died of typhoid fever on Wednesday night. He was a good citizen and a member of the Methodist church, and leaves a wife and grown daughter. His remains were interred with appropriate ceremonies by Lodge 232 Knights of Honor, at Greenwood Cemetery at 2 o'clock p. m. on Thursday.

Mr. David Brown, on old and very respectable citizen of this county, living on McAdoo creek, died at his residence on last Saturday, and was buried on Sunday. Mr. Brown almost during his entire lifetime was honored with public trusts by his neighborhood and fellow citizens having been successively sheriff, constable and magistrate at different times, and scarcely ever being without some public position. He was a good citizen, and had lived to a good old age, and was taken like a ripe sheaf into the garner.

Why suffer with that aching head when you may be cured with Ayer's Cathartic Pills? Send a two cent stamp to Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., for a set of their attractive album cards.
